Water quality in perennial waters is directly influenced by water quality in intermittent and ephemeral waters that feed into them.